Dispatched at 4pm CST

Overmass trucks are still not allowed across the reconstructed section of the Barkly Highway.

An assessment of the road in one-week may determine whether this restriction will be lifted.

Other trucks are able to pass carrying full loads.

Motorists are now able to travel day and night through the construction site.

Roadworks will continue at the site during the next two weeks.

Motorists are asked heed all warning signs, travel slowly and exercise extreme care when travelling through the work site.

Motorists are being urged to refer to the Department's Road Report website for updated road information on all Government-controlled roads, including graphical representations of restrictions on regional maps.
